Strategy

Discretionary Global Fixed Income Fund geared to a secular bear market.

Investment style

The fund has a flexible and independent approach.

The investment universe is the whole bond market, but our investment style does not include structured products, nor leverage.

Taking into consideration its bearish view, the fund may be short duration through short positions on future contracts of sovereign bonds of major developed countries.

One of the fund's goals is to look to maintain volatility below 10 %.

In order to minimize liquidity risk, the fund aims to be able to sell in one single trading day 90 % of its bond portfolio.

Investment target

The fund's target is to provide excess return over the Bloomberg Barclays Global G7 Total Return Index Value Unhedged USD Index, over time.

Outlook : 4rd quarter 2017

- We continue to be cautious on both credit and rates on the senior bond markets of the main currencies.
- We are looking for the right moment to short long maturities bonds in the UK, US and Japan.
- India will remain a strong core position, and amongst emerging markets we continue to like Russia and Argentina
