

Saga Select Tactical Bond Fund

August 2020 ISIN (USD) LU0543854128

Strategy

Discretionary Global Fixed Income Fund geared to a secular bear market.

Investment style

The fund has a flexible and independent approach.

The investment universe is the whole bond market, but our investment style does not include structured products, nor leverage.

Taking into consideration its bearish view, the fund may be short duration through short positions on future contracts of sovereign bonds of major developed countries.

One of the fund's goals is to look to maintain volatility below 10 %.

In order to minimize liquidity risk, the fund aims to be able to sell in one single trading day 90 % of its bond portfolio.

Outlook : 3rd quarter 2020

We continue to be cautious on both credit and rates on the senior bond markets of the main currencies. Hence a large exposure to FRN's and shorter maturities.

In emerging markets, we have an exposure to Russia, where relatively sound financials and high interest rate provide an interesting opportunity for diversification.

Russia and India are set to remain the core position in emerging markets.
